

Devran Kaplan
Analyst

Professional Background

Devran Kaplan joined Quantera Global in 2016 as an intern during his study of Tax Law at the University of Tilburg. The collaboration worked out well for both sides, so Devran started working for Quantera Global as an Analyst in September 2017.

Devran's work experience naturally lies in the area of transfer pricing, from benchmarking to compiling local and master files for various companies in different industries.

Devran is a social team player and likes thinking out of the box. Clients like Devran's curiosity: he wants to know every detail of a company and its operations to find out what exactly they need and to provide the best possible solutions in the area of transfer pricing. He has a hands-on mentality and performs his work with a great eye for detail.

Qualifications

- Masters Degree in Tax Law from Tilburg University.

Proven Track Record

- Setting up search strategies and performing manual reviews for benchmark studies.
- Compiling transfer pricing documentation, both local and master files.

Capabilities

- Transfer Pricing project management.
- Transfer Pricing documentation.
- Financial analysis.

