

Nard Donders
Analyst

Professional Background

Nard Donders started working as an Analyst for Quantera Global in October 2017. Before joining Quantera Global, Nard gained experience in the field of corporate and international tax advice as an intern at a big 4 firm.

Nard's work experience in the area of transfer pricing varies from benchmarking to compiling local and master files for various companies in different industries.

Nard enjoys the interaction with clients and wants to know the client in-depth in order to provide them with the best possible solutions in the area of transfer pricing. He is known as a social team player with passion for transfer pricing.

Qualifications

- Master degree in Tax Economics from Tilburg University.

Proven Track Record

- Setting up search strategies and performing benchmarking studies.
- Compiling transfer pricing documentation, both local and master files.

Capabilities

- Transfer Pricing project management.
- Transfer Pricing documentation and benchmarking.
- Fluent in Dutch and English.

